WFC Blog

This month we are honored to share a blog post by Tia Beavert, Tribal Forest Manager with Yakama Nation Tribal Forestry, entitled "We are in this together." Beavert reflects on her career journey and why she joined the Women's Forest Congress Advisory Council, noting her primary reason being she "found these women to be so open to creating a support system, sharing experiences, and connecting with other female forestry professionals."

The Women's Forest Congress was recently featured in the American Forest Foundation's Woodland Magazine in a discussion of how the "Women's Forest Congress is developing strategies and solutions for forests by women, for women." You can read the article on the Family Forest Blog.

Fun Fact of the Month

#DYK it's National Forest Products Week?!? Designated by Congress annually during the third week of October, the week recognizes the importance of our nation's forests and the products generated from them. As such, President Joseph R. Biden Jr. proclaimed the week of October 17-23, 2021 "National Forest Products Week." The Women's Forest Congress invites you to celebrate "all Americans who are responsible for the stewardship of our Nation's beautiful, forested landscape."

THERE IS A NEED - ARGUABLY TODAY MORE THAN EVER - FOR DIVERSE PERSPECTIVES TO HELP ENSURE THE HEALTH AND FUTURE OF FORESTS.
